Season's Greetings from the Chairman

Dear friends and supporters,

First and foremost, I wish to thank you for your dedication to making it possible for us to provide food for the hungry. Throughout the year, it has only been through your sponsorships, your donations, and your participation in our fundraising efforts that have allowed us to continue on our quest to wipe out hunger nationally.

We have had an exciting year – new staff, new Board members, a move to a brand-new facility, and our inaugural golf tournament, to name a few. Again, all only possible because you care and you are committed.

As we enter this yuletide season, let us all continue to be mindful that many people won't have a Christmas feast. They would love one, I'm sure, but more than anything, they just want meals. They want to know that they can feed themselves and their children if only one hot meal daily.

Thanks to the support of our sponsors, our monthly meals have increased to 100,000 supporting nearly 100 soup kitchens, churches, feeding centres and other organizations.

In 2023, we look forward to the continued support from our regular sponsors and donors, but we are asking every single employed person, who is able, to donate monthly to The Bahamas Feeding Network. Thirty dollars feeds a family of four with eight meals each. Take action with us, and know that your donation may be the lifeline for a struggling family right in your community. Thank you for all that you do, or are about to do, to help the most vulnerable.

Blessings for a very Merry Christmas and a prosperous and Happy New Year!

Welcome to the Family – Nicolette Archer

Having spent her entire adulthood as an educator, Nicolette Fountain Archer has recently changed course, taking on a new role helping to run the Bahamas Feeding Network (BFN).

"As my stepson said, I have now gone from feeding minds to feeding tummies," said the former St. Anne's School principal. "Just seeing the people every single day who call, text or come by looking for assistance, you know the need is there so you know that you need to work it."

Nicolette Archer has spent much of her life giving back to The Bahamas through the education of thousands of students and now she's able to continue playing an important role in the lives of many in a different way with BFN.

Tee Off for Hunger a solid success

Bahamas Feeding Network hosts inaugural golf tournament

Nearly 100 players with an appetite for golf and a desire to support a worthy cause turned out for the Inaugural 'Tee off for Hunger' golf tournament at Ocean Club Golf Club, helping to raise more than $70,000 in sponsorships, prizes and donations for the Bahamas Feeding Network.

On September 25, under a clear blue sky and the shimmering ocean waters for a backdrop, the spirit of giving was matched by the drive to win.

"When those who would even be competitors in a given industry or field come together for a worthy cause, you know the power of unity with a purpose, and that is what we experienced --- a super group of people playing a game they love for a cause they respect," said BFN Executive Director James Palacious.

It's not often you see six powerful men rally round the need to feed but it happened with smiles, friendship and frank discussions when Prime Minister Philip Davis met with leaders from the Bahamas Feeding Network (BFN) in the Office of the Prime Minister. The occasion in July was a welcome to Archdeacon (Retired) James Palacious who took over as the new Executive Director as the NGO's former leader, Lester Ferguson prepared to move to the U.S. for The Salvation Army.

Thank you for being a friend!

Since our inception in 2013, our dear friend Diane Phillips has been a pillar of support in a cause bigger than herself, which is simply feeding persons in need. Thanks to her dedication and continuous support, we were able to share our story to thousands of people. We appreciate all that you do Diane!
